

BLUEGRASS ANNUAL DISCUSSIONS ON ANTHROPOLOGY AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

Saturday, October 28th in Lafferty Hall

DEADLINE TO SUBMIT ABSTRACTS: WED., OCT. 25TH

The 2023 UKY Anthropology BADASS Conference will focus on Environment. While this topic includes pressing issues such as climate change and human impacts on biodiversity and natural resources, it also encompasses digital, cultural, linguistic, familial, and other environments. This year we are soliciting presentations from a wide range of fields (anthropology, sociology, geography, political sciences, gender and women's studies, etc.) and topics, including but not limited to foodways, multi-species interactions, feminist workplace issues, stable isotope analysis, ontogeny, environmental justice, and traditional environmental knowledge. Thanks to our sponsors, registration is free and lunch and coffee with pastries will be provided. The conference program is not yet available but will feature 15-minute presentations, posters, and a keynote lecture by Dr. Sharyn R. Jones, a Professor of Anthropology at Northern Kentucky University whose archaeological work focuses on gender, identity, and foodways. Scan the QR code for more details.

EXCITED TO PRESENT YOUR RESEARCH? SCAN THE QR CODE to get started OR VISIT <https://tinyurl.com/UKYBADASSConference>.

Have any questions or want to get involved in this year's conference? Please contact:

Leah Böttger | lbo265@uky.edu

Michael Steenken | michael.steenken@uky.edu

CONFERENCE
SPONSORS

Student Sustainability
Council

cra

BADASS®
COFFEE - HAWAII